

Education

Better accessibility to funding education for tribal members who cannot dedicate full time campus life. These are tribal members raising families, and have full-time jobs, wishing to further their education. I feel they should be accommodated as well; I don't feel they should be left behind. Education should never cease. The funding structure for higher education should be revised.

Solar

We need to work towards mitigating the added service fees that come with our electric bills. There are groups out there ready to help CRIT with solar solution(s). There are so many benefits to having solar energy systems. I want to open dialogue in obtaining this energy solution.

VIEWS

I believe micromanagement can have unfavorable effects. Although some oversight and guidance may be needed, excessive micromanaging can hinder success for both employee and employer. Department heads and managers are hired to operate tribal departments and enterprises, and they should be given some reign in doing so. It's when those operations don't align with tribal interests is when leadership should step in.

I am opposed to inequity in the workplace. I believe in fair treatment across the board. I believe all employees should be afforded fair review, advocacy, and proper due process. If I'm elected, you can reach out to me if you with any issues. I will advocate accordingly.

I am a huge advocate of mental health. I strongly believe in responsible, work-life balance. The workload can be demanding, home life is equally demanding, we should always take time out for ourselves when needed.

We face difficulties involving housing crisis, major incidences of crime in our community, and economic challenges involving utility fees. I feel these issues could have been somewhat mitigated if given its due attention beforehand. I want to disrupt this current state of existing issues. Change is possible. Let's end the status quo.

I'm a proponent of professional growth and development. Mindsets are everything. Having the appropriate mindset is the difference between success and the status quo. Self-education in Leadership and Management is a hobby of mine. I strongly believe that quality leadership can drive success.

I believe that tribal leadership is a contribution to successes and failures for the tribe. And working towards solutions is a duty for the department head and support staff, as much as it is for tribal leadership. If chosen, I will be present. I will occupy one seat of the nine council positions that can act. I would be just one. Involvement from all positions is critical. And you are vital to your tribe's future, if not me, please, cast your best vote.

Let's end the status quo.
